

Henkel in Germany

Fritz Henkel founded the detergent company Henkel & Cie in Aachen in 1876. Two years later, he relocated the company to Düsseldorf. As early as 1907, Henkel launched the first self-acting laundry detergent. Building on this enduring success, the company has expanded its business during its 129 years of existence to include adhesives, sealants, and surface treatments, as well as cosmetics and toiletries. Today, Düsseldorf-Holthausen is the headquarters of Henkel KGaA.
